

DROID with Google™ by Motorola

Introducing DROID by Motorola, an Android 2.0-powered smartphone developed in partnership with Google and Verizon Wireless, the nation's largest and most reliable wireless voice and 3G network. DROID delivers high-speed Web, voice-activated search, a super large touch screen and thousands of customizable apps and widgets from Android Market™. With the thinnest full QWERTY slider available on the market, it's a no-compromise supergenius in your pocket, multitasking at break-neck pace to get things done.

High-Speed Mobile Browsing

- See the Web at light speed on the largest high-resolution display with an HTML browser.
- Look up favorite sites, video and music fast with a high-speed processor and lightning-fast connection.
- View it all on the 3.7" display with more than 400,000 total pixels, which is twice that of the leading competitor.
- Work faster on the Web with double tap to zoom in and out.

Google Searches Beyond the Web

- Type your search to deliver results such as contacts, music and photos offering the fastest and most complete search experience on a mobile device.
- Use voice-activated search to serve up both your contacts and Google search results, based on your location¹.
- Find your way with free spoken turn-by-turn directions with Google Maps™ Navigation Beta. View geographic information, such as My Maps, Wikipedia entries and transit lines, right on the map.

Customize Your DROID

- Access thousands of applications and hundreds of widgets from Android Market™.
- Customize your home screen with preloads like Facebook and Google Maps™ or download applications for music, news, sports games and more.
- Toggle back and forth between up to six applications at a time.

Multitask Messaging

- Integrate work (Exchange) and personal (Gmail™) e-mails into one inbox with e-mails pushed directly to you.
- Find your contacts using a universal list that pulls in work, personal and Facebook contacts
- Slide out the full QWERTY keyboard to comfortably text, IM and e-mail¹
- Have your work calendar right at your fingertips at all times

Additional Bells and Whistles

- DVD quality video camcorder features a 16:9 cinematic display and offers one-touch playback and easy uploading to share with friends with the YouTube™ home screen widget or application.
- 5 megapixel camera loaded with the works like dual-LED flash, AutoFocus, and image stabilization
- Features 16 gigs of storage space
- Bluetooth 2.0 with A2DP gives you the option of wireless connectivity. Or if you prefer traditional, headphones utilize the 3.5mm headset jack.
- Copy text and URLs to simply paste them into an e-mail, text or status update¹.

Optional Accessories

- Transform the device into a desktop multimedia station which acts as an alarm clock, movie player or digital picture frame⁶.
- Mount DROID in your car to create a GPS navigation device so you can keep your hands on the wheel⁶.
